

Project "Zähne putzen"
Retreat rooms for activists of social-ecological change

Some questions that would be helpful for us to answer

1. Do you have in your community the willingness and ability to provide spaces where activists can retreat for a period of time to recover and process?

2. If so, what kind of spaces (material and beyond) could they be? How well could recreational and basic needs be met there (sleeping, eating, nature, retreat, reorganization)?

3. How many people could be there for about how long?

4. Would you have the ability to support these people in processing their experiences (e.g. through methods of process accompaniment)?

5. What rules would you like to set for these spaces? What would not work for you?

6. Would you like financial or other compensations for these rooms?

7. Which person from your community can be a contact person for us in this project and how can we reach him/her?
